ADVENTIST CONVENTION CLOSES

FAREWELL SERVICE FOR FIFTEEN MISSIONARIES UNDER APPOINTMENT TO FOREIGN FIELDS IS A FEATURE OF SATURDAY'S PROGRAM

CALLS FOR WORKERS ARE MANY

That Seventh-day Adventist missionaries have penetrated 2500 miles into the heart of China, until they are upon the borders of Thibet, ready to enter that closed country as soon as permission is obtained from the Thibetan government, that they are preaching in languages spoken by fifteen hundred million souls, and soon will be operating in all the languages of earth, were statements of Elder Arthur G. Daniells, president of the General, or World Conference of the Adventists, at the service Saturday morning in the Adventist Church at California and Isabel streets. He pointed to evidences of divine leadership in the Adventist movement, to its solidity, and to the wonderful manner in which all obstacles have been overcome.

Saturday and Sunday were big days at the Adventist convention, and great crowds were present at nearly all the services. The Sabbath school, held Saturday morning at 9:30, was conducted by Prof. Marion E. Cady of Berkeley, and Elder George A. Snyder of Los Angeles, Prof. Cady conducting the review of last week's lesson, and Elder Snyder the lesson study of the day, the subject being, "Rejoicing in Christ," and the lesson scripture, Philippians 3:1-7. Elders Luther Warren of Loma Linda, and Daniells gave short talks. The offering amounted to $175.

Prospective missionaries, under appointment to foreign fields, took part in a symposium Saturday afternoon. Among these were Elder and Mrs. B. E. Beddoe, under appointment to South Africa; Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, scheduled for South America; Elder and Mrs. C. S. Prout of Los Angeles, under appointment for South Africa; Mr. and Mrs. John Elvin, under appointment for South America; Mr. Harlan Olson, scheduled for North India; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Abbott, for South Africa; Mr. and Mrs. George T. Vore, to go to a Spanish-speaking field, and Dr. and Mrs. S. T. Johnston, scheduled for Peru.

The Saturday afternoon service constituted a farewell for the eight workers and their wives. Elder and Mrs. B. E. Beddoe, former residents of Glendale, have been located at San Francisco, where he has been pastor of the Laguna Street Church. He formerly was president of the Southern California Conference, later taking work as home missionary and young people's secretary of the Pacific Union Conference.

Mr. John E. Elvin served in the Canadian army during the war, and has since been connected with the Glendale Sanitarium staff. Mr. E. H. Abbott has been field missionary secretary of the California Conference, with headquarters at Oakland. Elder and Mrs. C. S. Prout, of Los Angeles, go to South Africa, where he will engage in evangelistic work in the large centers. Elder Prout has been serving in the Southern California Conference as young people's secretary.

The sending of these valued workers to foreign fields necessitates the selection of others to fill their places in the home land. Elder J. W. Christian, president of the Pacific Union Conference, gave the opening address. He read the first nine verses of Luke 10, in which is the account of the Christ's sending out of 70 missionaries. Elder Christian commented briefly upon the scripture. "During the last four weeks many calls have come for young men and women, and older ones also, to engage in work in distant lands," said Elder Christian. "This very morn-

WASHINGTON DANCE

Mr. and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson of East Chestnut Street entertained Saturday evening with a dancing party in honor of their relatives and house guests, Mrs. E. H. Woodruff, and her daughter, Mrs. Clarice Kozlay, of New York City. Hatchets, cherries, and other time honored Washington emblems featured the affair and carnations and roses were used in decoration. Some fancy dances by Miss Esther Ralston, and vocal numbers by Miss Marie Oliver and by the host varied the informal dance program for which piano and Victrola music was provided. A supper was served about midnight. The guest list included: Misses Dorothy Hunt, Aileen Sullivan, Esther Ralston, Marie Oliver, Mesdames Lilian Rambeau, R. Sullivan, Mary J. Oliver, William Sullivan and Robert Sullivan, William Reitz of Los Angeles, Thomas Elliott and H. Washburn from New York City, Mrs. Alexander and Miss Howe from Hollywood, Robert, Will and Al Sullivan, Francis Gordon, Clarence Ralston, Kenneth Jackson.

The guests of honor are very much delighted with Southern California, especially with Glendale, and declare that after returning to New York to settle up their affairs there they will come back and locate in this city.

BOLD ROBBER QUICKLY CAPTURED

K. Kurihara, a Japanese living at 516 Riverdale Drive, was called to the door of his house Saturday night at about 10:30 and robbed at the point of a revolver of $20, which he carried in a small sack. Police headquarters was promptly notified and an officer put on the trail at once, resulting in the capture of the guilty party shortly afterward at the P. E. station. He proved to be Henry Pahland, a youth of 19 and he had the money on him, still in the sack. He also had a .32 caliber Colt's automatic, a pawn ticket for a watch, a letter from his sweetheart and a Citizen Seaman's identification card. He confessed his crime but evidently did not realize the seriousness of it, treating his arrest as a joke. He claims to have lived in the Tropico district for several years.

C. E. CONVENTIONETTE

ANNUAL MEETING HELD SATURDAY AND SUNDAY, AND OFFICERS ELECTED

The annual Christian Endeavor conventionette was held Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 21 and 22, starting Saturday, 6:30 p. m. with a booster banquet on the Occidental College Commons. There were about 80 in attendance. After a splendid supper and a few good-natured "roasts" and songs, a pledge-raising contest was entered into with real C. E. pep and in a short time the sum of $411 was raised for next year's work. Sunday at 2:30 p. m. about 50 young people gathered in the Presbyterian church for department conferences and all received much valuable information concerning the work. At 4 o'clock the business session was conducted and the annual election was held, resulting in the choice of the following officers: Roy Krug, president; Marjorie Smith, vice president; Elizabeth Mottern, secretary; Cleo Stoler, treasurer; Pearl Gilland, Quiet Hour superintendent; Carol Duncan, Intermediate superintendent; Louina McNary, Junior superintendent. This is considered a fine corps of workers for the coming year. Sandwiches and chocolate were served next. At 5 o'clock the union prayer meetings of the Young People's and Intermediate societies were held. There was a wonderful consecration address by Rev. E. E. Ford of the Baptist church. In spite of the influenza scare and the rain there were about 120 in attendance thruout the day.

RAINFALL FOR STORM 1.87 INCHES

The rains of Saturday night and Sunday, .69 of an inch, brought the total for the storm which commenced on the 19th, up to 1.87 inches. This brings the season's record up to 9.61 inches, as against 9.47 this time last season. T. W. Preston's record differs slightly from Mr. Bartlett's, being 2.05 inches for the storm, with the season's total 10.03 inches.

The home of Chas. P. Brice of 304 North Kenwood is quarantined on account of the illness of influenza of his daughter, Mrs. Leone Brice Jillson, who is, however, not seriously ill. Mr. Brice and his son have both been sick of the same disease at a hospital in Arizona, but are now out and attending to business.

BRITISH FLEET SENT TO CONSTANTINOPLE

BELIEVED TO HAVE SOME CONNECTION WITH CRITICAL SITUATION IN TURKEY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Feb. 23.—A British battle fleet, the most imposing array of warships ever seen in the Bosphorus, arrived at Constantinople today, according to a News Agency dispatch received here today. The arrival of the fleet is believed to have a connection with the critical situation in Turkey.

TAX DODGERS THREATENED

INTERNAL REVENUE COMMISSIONER ROPER ASKS FOR CONGRESSIONAL APPROPRIATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—An appropriation to finance a billion dollar drive on tax dodgers has been asked of Congress by Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper, it was learned today. This amount, Roper informed the House Appropriation Committee can be brought into the treasury if Congress will allow sufficient funds for an audit.

A PROHIBITION CRISIS

ATTORNEY GENERAL PALMER TO INVESTIGATE REVOLT IN IRON COUNTY, MICHIGAN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Daniel C. Roper, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, announced today that he would make a formal request of Attorney General Palmer that he investigate the liquor revolt in Iron county, Michigan, where Prosecuting Attorney M. S. Donough arrested prohibition officials who had seized home-made wines. The prohibition officials said they would insist on the entire matter being investigated and that punishment be meted out to the officials at fault. The success of the prohibition law may depend upon the present issue, it was declared.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—A. Z. Dalrymple and a band of prohibition enforcement workers will leave Chicago tonight for Iron county, Michigan "to clean up" illicit whiskey traffic in that mining region. Whether troops will be asked to aid the prohibition workers, has not been decided.

CREST OF FLOOD PASSES

EIGHT FEET OF WATER GOING OVER SPILL-WAY AT THE ROOSEVELT DAM; WATERS RECEDING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 23.—The crest of the flood which has been sweeping the Salt, Verde and Gila rivers, passed early today. The waters are now receding.

Latest reports from Roosevelt Dam indicate that eight feet of water is now going over the spill-way. Damage to railway bridges and other property is estimated at $100,000. The state highway bridge over the Salt river at Tempe is still holding although sinking piers gave cause for fear that dynamite might prove necessary to save the structure.

RETAIL MEAT DEALERS PROTEST

ASSOCIATION SECRETARY DECLARES THEY ARE MADE GOATS WHILE PACKERS GO FREE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 23.—Attorney General Palmer was arraigned today by the Retail Meat Dealers' Association of California for his methods in dealing with the packers. Secretary J. B. Muir of the Association, read before the convention in session here today a news item in which Palmer is quoted as saying that the retailers must reduce prices in order to bring down the high cost of living. Muir charged that the cases against the big packers had been dropped for some unknown reason. "It is only of recent date," said Muir, "that the cases against the big packers have been settled out of court by Attorney General Palmer, for some unknown reason. It looks as though one of the items of the settlement was the passing of the buck to the little fellows—the retailers, who are always the goats."

The convention adopted a resolution to re-establish the State Market Bureau of the Agricultural Department for the purpose of enabling retailers to obtain accurate prices.

SINN FEIN LEADER SENTENCED

D. J. BARTON GIVEN THREE YEARS IN PENITENTIARY FOR PERNICIOUS ACTIVITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Feb. 23.—D. J. Barton, Sinn Fein leader, recaptured after he made his escape from Mount Joy Prison, has been sentenced to three years in the penitentiary, a Dublin dispatch said today. Barton left for England last night under guard.

ILLINOISAN LOCATES

W. B. DAVIS BUYS ACREAGE FOR HOME, NURSERY, HOT-HOUSES, GARDENS

W. B. Davis of Aurora, Ill., who has spent two winters in Glendale, has become so well pleased with its many attractions that he has decided to become a citizen. With this end in view he has recently purchased M. P. Harrison's tract of fifteen acres in the Grandview district and the five acres adjoining it on the west. This acreage lies along the north side of the San Fernando Road and is about a quarter of a mile west of the pumping plant. Mr. Davis will erect a fine residence facing on the San Fernando Road and surround it with large grounds which will be set to choice fruit trees and ornamental shrubbery. The remainder of the acreage will be devoted to an up-to-date nursery, with hothouses for the growing of a winter supply of vegetables, such as cucumbers, tomatoes, mushrooms and the like, and gardens for all the year 'round production of fruits and vegetables. Mr. Davis has been in the nursery and greenhouse business practically all his life in Illinois and now has a chain of such establishments in that state, the one at Aurora representing an investment of $150,000. He will go back to Aurora in a few weeks to arrange his business affairs so he can return to Glendale this summer to commence the improvements on his new purchase. In the two winters he has lived in Glendale Mr. Davis has studied the city's business life very closely and while he expresses himself as delighted with everything here he says three things are greatly needed, namely: A passenger and freight depot for the S. P. somewhere near Broadway, a large modern hotel and a first class apartment building. These would bring thousands of new people to Glendale, he says, many of whom would locate, and the population and value of property would be doubled in a few years.

This purchase by Mr. Davis, which was made through Doner & Hemenway, and the recent acquiring by A. Tasanao of ten acres in the same vicinity to be devoted to flower culture, show that Glendale's soil and climate are considered by experts as adapted to flower, vegetable and fruit culture on a large scale and that in a very short time this city will become a great shipping center for these products.

ENJOYABLE AUTO TRIPS

J. F. M'CLAMMY AND FAMILY SEEK HEALTH AND SPORT AT LAKES AND SEA

J. Todd McClammy of 436 West Harvard has certainly made a traveling and sporting record in the past few months, making four trips, accompanied by his wife and six children each time and by one or two others in some of them. The first was to Owens Lake, duck shooting, and the first day they were there the three boys got 62 ducks; and the party 187 during the trip. They made the trips in a big auto with trailer attached, the whole load weighing over 3000 pounds. Mr. McClammy said on this trip they traveled over a 12-mile stretch of road away up on a mountainside which he said is considered the most dangerous in the state. In many places there's but three inches to spare and they traveled it after night. The next trip was to Abbott's Lake, where hunting and fishing was enjoyed. Then Baldwin Lake, seven miles from Great Bear, was visited and a great many fish caught. The final trip was to Salton Sea, a short time ago, for ducks, but not many were secured. Mr. McClammy considers that these trips were worth many times their cost in enjoyment and health building to all of them.

INFLUENZA PEAK PASSED

Reports from the office of Dr. Eckles, City Health Officer, and from the City Hall received this morning indicate that the peak of the influenza epidemic has been passed, as there is quite a marked decrease in the number of cases reported. Two patients are now being cared for at the municipal emergency hospital in the city building at the corner of Brand and Los Feliz Road.

O. T. Walker of 247 North Kenwood, who has been confined to his home by illness for the past four weeks, was able to be on the streets today.

PROGRAM DANCE

TWO HUNDRED OR MORE ELKS ENJOY MUSICAL PROGRAM AT CLUB HOUSE

About two hundred Elks enjoyed the program dance at their Club House Saturday evening. The recital took place at 8 p. m., the following artists contributing:

Prince Lei Lani—Hawaiian Tenor.

Manueo V. Budrow—Spanish Prima Donna.

Ruth Beverly Cumming, American Dramatic Soprano.

Lois Mary Townsley—Pianiste.

Tom Dering—Saxophone Soloist.

Tom Swift—Accompanist.

To afford variety there was also a magician, Turley the Great. The program numbers were:

De-puis le Jour from the opera "Louise," and "The Lass with the Delicate Air" (Arne) by Ruth Beverly Cumming.

Selection of Hawaiian Songs—Hawaiian Quintette, Victrola.

Selection by Glendale Elks' Quartette.

At the close of the program the room was cleared of chairs and informal ballroom dancing was enjoyed.

ELEVATOR SHAFT 3300 FEET HIGH

Glendale visitors to Yosemite National Park will be interested in knowing that there is soon to be built there from the floor of the valley to the top of Glacier Point, 3300 feet, an elevator, which will be the highest in the world. The project has been approved by S. T. Mather, director of National Parks. The shaft, 9x13 feet in dimensions, will be drilled through solid rock for the entire distance and there will be a series of power driven elevators. The cost of the project will be in the neighborhood of $500,000, it is stated.

NEW COMERS FROM SALT LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Van Housen of Salt Lake City who have decided to make Southern California their home from this time on, have purchased the Cunningham property at 1320 North Maryland Avenue. After investigating the suburbs of Los Angeles they decided that Glendale offered more attractions thany any other locality. Mr. Van Housen is retiring from the superintendency of the Salt Lake Road in Salt Lake City, where he has been actively engaged in railroad affairs for many years. During the same period he has been interested in the sheep business in Wyoming.

THEY MISS GLENDALE

MR. AND MRS. A. W. DICKINSON BUY HOME IN MERRITT DISTRICT, SAN FRANCISCO

A letter containing an account of the good and bad fortune Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dickinson have experienced since they left Glendale, has been received from Mrs. Dickinson from which the following is gleaned which will be of interest to their many friends here.

We left Glendale the first of the year when Mr. Dickinson, who was connected with the Los Angeles wholesale office of Marshall Field & Company of Chicago, was given charge of the San Francisco office in San Francisco.

Since our arrival we have bought a home in the Merritt Terrace district of San Francisco, and the past week have just brought our children home from the hospital. Marshall Bingham, who was ill with pneumonia, and Harriet Ann with bronchial-pneumonia and both are now gaining every day. While we miss Glendale and our friends very much, especially Mr. Dickinson's Elk associates, we are much interested in the furnishing of our new home, which by the way I might relate, unlike the typical San Francisco home, is blessed with a front yard and a lovely landscaped backyard with a profusion of flowers.

THANKS DUE MR. COFFIN AND HIS ASSOCIATES

In today's issue of the Evening News is the last report of the Seventh-day Adventist convention which closed a week's session in Glendale last evening. The Evening News has taken a pleasure in giving its readers quite a complete report of the doings of this very important district meeting attended by a thousand delegates from all parts of California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah.

F. A. Coffin, Publicity secretary of the Pacific Union Conference has our thanks for his promptness in furnishing us with splendid type-written reports of these meetings. It is indeed a pleasure to extend publicity courtesies when we have the co-operation of the officials of a convention of such magnitude.

The Evening News stands ready to give reasonable publicity to all conventions, whether they be church, educational or fraternal, that are held in our city, and the extent and accuracy of such reports will depend largely upon the ability of the publicity secretary of the assembly in session. The delegates of the convention just closed and their friends mailed out hundreds of copies of the Evening News to their friends the past ten days.

Never has there been so large an assembly of people in Glendale who have commanded more respect and favorable comment than the members of the convention just closed.

NEW YORK HOTEL FIRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Fire originating in the room of "Big Bill" Edwards, internal revenue collector, today drove four hundred guests from the Marie Antoinette Hotel. The blaze did $25,000 damage.

MAN'S "GOLDEN AGE" IS FIFTY TO SIXTY

Many will be interested in Mr. Howell's conclusion that the "golden age of man is between 50 and 60." In the decade there is peace; material security has come if one has been prosperous; one has fairly learned one's trade or mastered one's art; one is not so much afraid of death as earlier, yet one likes joking as much as ever and loves beauty and truth as much. "It is a golden age, and no age after it is more than silvern." Yet the latter have their compensations. There is the pleasure, for example, of reading things over and over again. Within his 82nd year he has read "Don Quixote" with as much zest as in his twelfth year, and more recently Milton's "Lycidas" with as rich a woe as the first time. That much he has to say of the pleasures of the young-old, yet his most illuminating passage is that in which he gives counsel to younger men.

"The attitude of amaze in comparative youth at mere superannuation is one of the hardest things which the old have to bear from their juniors, far harder than Hamlet's mockery of Polonius. Every old man knows the truth about physical age, and it can only hurt him the more to be told that he is looking better than ever, to be forced to smirk in the acceptance or refusal of the false homage offered his years in the effort to discount them for him. Let us alone, I say, and we can bear our burden, do not add the weight of your gross kindness to it. We know that we have wonderful alleviations, and even advantages; we are at least not dead, and there we are at least equal with younger men."—Portland Oregonian.

A CROWN FOR SALE

Numerous crowns have been dumped on the market lately, metaphorically speaking, but this is to be taken literally. Constantine, former king of Greece, is offering his crown for sale through a friend who has already approached London jewel merchants. This friend says he has disposed of several "small jewels, orders and badges" belonging to Constantine, and now he is getting busy with the more pretentious things.

The crown is said to be worth $150,000 at pre-war prices, and though crowns in the abstract have gone down, the raw materials of which they are made have gone up. Constantine therefore hopes to get enough out of this bauble to pay quite a few pressing bills. It is not the state crown of Hellas, which he was evidently prevented from making away with when he skipped to Switzerland, but a "smaller diadem" worn on comparatively informal occasions. Still, it is probably a bargain for any American millionaire interested in collecting such relics.

Constantine confesses that the disposition of the crown embarrasses him. He doesn't want to sell it at auction, because "that would be undignified." Royalty must be dignified, it seems, even in ruins.

Let Constantine keep whatever shreds and patches of dignity he is able to. A world, strangely unsympathetic toward monarchs, finds his predicament too funny to keep a straight face. Americans particularly are inclined to smile with satisfaction. Constantine would still be king of Greece, and honored more than ever among the mighty of the earth, if he had but served his own people half as well as he served his imperial brother-in-law, Kaiser Wilhelm—who himself will probably be hocking crowns and things pretty soon, to pay his bills at Amerongen.

DR. GEO. MOSHER WRITES FROM AFRICA

Dr. Geo. E. Mosher, formerly of Glendale, who went out to Bolenge, Africa, with his wife, as a missionary last year, has written to the Christian Church here which contributes to his support and that of the other missionaries on the Congo field, telling of his work. He says he and his wife have suffered not at all from the heat since they arrived and that what shortens the life of all the missionaries there is not the heat but overwork, so eager are the natives to hear the gospel message. The work of the medical missionaries is especially heavy owing to the many hereditary diseases from which the natives suffer. He writes that Dr. Louis Pearson, the husband of Evelyn Utter, who lived in Glendale from 1908 to 1913, treated 318 patients in July, 550 in August, 996 in September and 987 in October.

Dr. Payne-Jackman last week entertained members of the Payne family, four sisters and one brother, the youngest of the quintette being 67 years old, three from Nebraska and two from Orange county. There are eight brothers and sisters in the entire family, the youngest of the eight being 65 years old.

DEATH OF MRS. HAVILAND

The many friends of the Haviland family in Glendale will learn with sorrow of the death this morning, February 23, 1920, of Mrs. Lavinia Haviland, who passed away at her home in Los Angeles at 916 West Sixth Street, at the age of fifty-two years. She is survived by her husband, Fletcher W. Haviland, a son, Stephen Haviland, and two daughters—Dorinda and Elizabeth, all of whom are living at home. The family formerly resided in Glendale, where Mr. Haviland was in business, and its members are very well known here. Funeral arrangements, of which the Jewel City Undertaking Company will have charge, will be announced later.

DEATH OF INFANT SON

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Gunnison of 527 West Harvard St. will be grieved to learn of the loss of their infant son, George W. Gunnison, who passed away Sunday morning, February 22, 1920. Funeral services will be held at the Gunnison residence today at 2 p. m., Rev. R. W. Mottern officiating, with interment at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, the Jewel City Undertaking Company having charge.

Personals

Alfred F. Priest, Glendale architect, has just had accepted plans for a brick garage at Zelzah.

Mrs. A. H. Brown of Gardena Avenue and two of her children are down with influenza.

Mr. Malina of San Diego, son of the president of the Bank of Yuma at Yuma, was a Sunday guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hurlbert of West Park Avenue.

Mrs. Eustace B. Moore and her three children who have been ill of influenza are now quite recovered and expect to be released from quarantine today or tomorrow.

E. E. Harwood, principal of the Cerritos Avenue School, and Mrs. Harwood, who have been ill of influenza, are restored to health and out of quarantine

Mrs. P. M. Peterson of McFarland was the guest of Mrs. Lydia Border of 217 North Louise Street Thursday and Friday. She came to attend the funeral of Wash Hunt.

Willard Learned, who was brought home from Occidental ten days ago with a severe case of mumps, is just able to sit up. His sister, Miss Edith, is convalescing from an attack of flu.

Architect A. G. Lindley has completed plans for a new church building 30x60 feet, for the Methodist Latin-American congregation of Rivera, and for a four-room parsonage.

Hearn Robinson of the Robinson Bros. Transfer & Storage Company is moving his family today into the house he purchased in December of C. H. Woolsey and wife, at 324 Milford Street.

Walter Stamps, seven years old, of 205 West Lomita Avenue, has suffered greatly for a week past with a badly scalded foot, caused by the overturning of a vessel of boiling water on it. He is now on the mend.

The City of Santa Ana is trying out, with considerable success, it is reported, the surfacing of dirt streets with a coating of cracked apricot pits. A hard, smooth surface is made by thorough rolling with a heavy steam roller.

The E. D. Yard home is quarantined on account of the illness of influenza of Miss Lucile Sparks, a teacher in the city schools who makes her home with them. She is recovering and has not been critically ill at any time.

To meet the demand for bedding and other comforts required by the Glendale Welfare Council, ladies on the committee representing the Tuesday Afternoon Club met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Meeker last week to make comforts, and ladies of the Congregational Church were also busy in the manufacture of rugs and comforts.

Work has been resumed on the Seventh-day Adventist edifice which the church was obliged to use for conference sessions before it was quite completed. During the week it was filled to overflowing, at certain sessions sheltering one thousand. It is expected that it will be finished before the next Sabbath services.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Braly of North Brand Boulevard entertained a good many callers Sunday afternoon in spite of the uncertain weather. Their guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Braly and children, Dr. and Mrs. Janss, Dr. and Mrs. Ledyard, and former Supervisor R. W. Pridham and Mrs. Pridham. The Bralys are planning to take in the opera of "Aida" this evening in Los Angeles.

J. R. Butler, who formerly had a broom factory on South Pacific Avenue, just below Vine Street, is now living at 510 Milford in a house he recently built. He also built two other houses, just west of his home place. While he likes his present work as a building and painting contractor, he looks back with some regret to having quit broom making, which he was forced to do through inability to procure sufficient supplies of the straw, or brush, as it is called.

VACATION WEEK

Teachers in the City Schools have been advised by Superintendent R. D. White that the schools will continue closed this week and that it will probably take the place of the customary spring vacation week; that they are free to use the time as they see fit. This decision will obviate the necessity of home work on the part of pupils and no lessons will be assigned.

LOSE INFANT SON

Nichol Varquez passed away at the home of his parents in La Canada Sunday morning at the age of eleven months and seventeen days. He died of pneumonia and had been ill but a few days. Funeral services, of which the Jewel City Undertaking Company will have charge, will be held at the Varquez home in La Canada at 2 p. m. on Tuesday.

MRS. GEORGE F. COLSON

HER DEATH ON SUNDAY A SHOCK TO HER MANY FRIENDS AND ASSOCIATES

On Sunday morning the many friends of Mrs. Cora Short Colson (all who knew her loved her) were shocked and grieved to learn of her death which occurred at 7:30 a. m. February 22, 1920, at her home, 416 Burchett Street. Mrs. Colson was an active and most helpful member of the Congregational Church and will ever be remembered for her unusually cheery disposition, her love for her home and her friends and her devoted Christian life. "To live in the hearts we leave behind is not to die."

Mrs. Colson was born at Covington, Ky., and had lived sixty-one years, but she had not begun to grow old. She was a teacher for eleven years before her marriage. She came with her husband to California in 1891, settling at Pomona, where she was a charter member of the Pilgrim Congregational Church. She lived for five years in Claremont and came to Glendale four years ago. Besides her devoted husband she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth McGregor of Berkeley, Cal., who was with her mother during the last days, and a son, Harold Colson, living at Portsmouth, Va.

Funeral services, which were private, were held this afternoon at the Jewel City Undertaking Parlors and were conducted by her pastor, Rev. E. H. Willisford.

AUTO COLLISIONS

FOUR OCCURRED SUNDAY, WITH EIGHT DAMAGES AND NO ONE HURT

R. N. Biglow of Los Angeles, driving east on Los Feliz Road, smashed into the San Fernando bus going north on San Fernando Road, crumpling up the running board on the left side and denting the side of the big machine. The radiator of Mr. Biglow's car was crushed in and the headlights smashed.

Francis E. Wilkinson of 132 S. Adams, driving his car south on Maryland Avenue, and Mr. Cline, driving west on Broadway, came together at the crossing. The front bumper was pulled off of Wilkinson's machine and the rear right fender of Cline's damaged.

Two machines collided at Riverside Drive and Central Avenue and one lost a front wheel. The parties to this accident evidently settled the matter between themselves, as no report was made to police headquarters.

No one was hurt in any of these accidents.

BEAUMONT WATER

H. B. LYNCH AND W. E. EVANS GO BEFORE R. R. COMMISSION ON BEHALF OF DISTRICT

H. B. Lynch and W. E. Evans have just returned from a three-day trip to San Francisco where they have been before the Railroad Commission in behalf of the Beaumont Irrigation District.

Mr. Evans is attorney for the district and Edward M. Lynch and H. B. Lynch are the engineers. They are all Glendale men.

The district proposes to take over the water system in and around Beaumont and has for several months been prosecuting before the Railroad Commission a valuation suit prepatory to condemnation. Recently, however, there has been a disposition on all sides to settle the case out of court and the present trip of Mr. Evans and Mr. Lynch grew out of a successful effort by all parties to compromise the case in time for improvements to be made this spring. The people of Beaumont will now vote on a bond issue of approximately $225,000 to take over and improve the properties before summer.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters; and he that hath no money, come ye, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price. Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labor for that which satisfieth not? Harken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live." Isa. 55:-1-3. Text of the morning sermon yesterday given by Rev. Edmonds at the Presbyterian Church. A few suggestions from it are in the following:

In the text the prophet is presenting the picture of an Oriental merchant—a wonderful bargain counter. The prophet is offering everything for nothing, the Gospel with all its beauty and fragrance. Come ye to the waters. Here is something that you need. The gospel is just as essential to your spiritual welfare as water is to your temporal needs. The next the prophet offers is wine. The pure juice of the grape. All through the scriptures it is symbolic of the best. Then milk for the babes in Christ, who can not stand the strong meat of the word and need the milk. "But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depths of the sea." You fathers and mothers step softly. If they perish God will hold their blood at your hands—these little ones. God bless the children. The next thing he sets before them is the feast of fat things. Let thy soul delight itself in fatness. Come, for all things are now ready.

The unbeliever has no guarantee, none whatever. The believer has everything guaranteed. The believer knows a few things. Believe me, he is the only man in the world who has any real knowledge. Everything in his life is settled because Jesus Christ is the guarantor. That is worth something. Then again the gospel brings victory in the time of stress and trial. Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree. The thorns shall literally be made palms of victory. The unbeliever has no such picture. The millionaire can not buy any more than the poor man. Everything for nothing. My God shall supply all your needs. You see a sign in the city, "More for less." We can beat it. "Everything for Nothing." Why do you spend your money for that which is not meat? Not very many who claim to have the gospel go about talking about it. Are we to understand that the reason tnat you do not talk about it is because you are ashamed of it? The man was not a fool who said there were no pockets in shrouds. We brought nothing into the world, it is certain we can take nothing out. As you come and buy you go away with a feeling of richness. The beauty of the gospel is that you can not confine it in any small space. It must grow or die.

It is possible for a man to be deceived and to think he has the gospel when he has not. The gospel is not given to us to do as we please with. It is given in trust. What shall a man give in exchange for his soul? Does any one here have a life insurance on his soul? How much value do you place upon your soul? There are two bidding for every soul born into the world, Christ and the devil. Christ says: "Come ye." Will you make the bargain today? Will you let the Lord Jesus Christ come into your heart? May god grant it.

DEATH OF WILLIAM CONNOR

William Connor, manager of the Thornycroft Sanitarium, died there this morning, February 23, 1920, about two o'clock. He was but 28 years of age and leaves a brother who is also at Thornycroft and a sister who lives in Baltimore. The remains are at the Scovern parlors and arrangements for the funeral services, which will be private, have not been completed.

M. J. BRENNAN'S CAR SMASHED

M. J. Brennan of 519 North Central had a marvelous escape from injury last Thursday. His automobile in which he was driving in Los Angeles was struck about the middle of the car on the side on which he was sitting by a heavy truck. The auto was badly smashed, but he escaped without hurt. Mrs. Brennan is not altogether surprised as she says he "has a charmed life."

DINNER FOR OLD FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hunt of 1201 Viola Avenue entertained at dinner on Sunday for a group of old friends, covers being laid for nine—Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Show, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lane from Athens on the Hill, also Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Feinstein, the host and hostess, and their daughter, Miss Loie Hunt. Cherokee roses and hyacinths from Mrs. Hunt's garden were effectively used in decorating the home and table for the occasion. Following the dinner a pleasant social afternoon was enjoyed by the company.

ing, calls have come for six more workers.

"This company on the rostrum represents only half of those who are under consideration for appointment to foreign fields. Further time and thought will be required to make the necessary adjustments for the releasing of others under consideration." Elder Christian said he knew all would like to hear from each of the missionaries soon to go.

Elder B. E. Beddoe spoke briefly. He said: "My heart is deeply stirred at the greatness of the responsibility of this call to foreign work. Seventeen years ago I was granted a license to preach. Eleven years ago I was ordained to the ministry. Each of these events meant much to me, but this last call necessitates the severing of home ties. Notwithstanding this I am happier today than I ever was and gladly consecrate all to God's service."

Mrs. Beddoe then spoke briefly of her willingness to surrender the comforts of the home land for the absence of such in the new field that she might co-operate in service for those in need of the gospel. Each of the others upon the platform also spoke, including the presidents of local conferences.

Elder E. H. Gates of Glendale, a retired missionary and Elder E. W. Farnsworth, of St. Helena, Cal., who also has seen mission service abroad, expressed their courage and confidence both in the young missionaries and the denominational work they represent.

A resolution was passed by the delegates giving to each family now leaving America for foreign service, an emergency fund of $1000.

That the Pacific Press Publishing Association, the leading Seventh-day Adventist publishing house on the Pacific Coast, carried on a volume of business last year of $1,338,363.53, a gain of $281,562.74 over 1918, was the statement of Mr. C. H. Jones, manager of the institution, in his report submitted at the quadrennial session of the Adventists yesterday morning. This one house printed as much denominational literature in 1918 as the entire denomination put out in 1909, Mr. Jones said.

The Pacific Press Publishing Association is operating six branch plants, located at Brookfield, near Chicago, Ill.; Kansas City, Mo.; Portland, Ore.; St. Paul, Minn.; Mountain View, Cal.; and Cristobal, Canal Zone. "When we began work at Brookfield, we were publishing books and periodicals in only three languages," said Mr. Jones. "Now we are issuing literature from that one plant in 24 languages, with more to follow. In consultation with the General Conference committee it has been decided to secure more land and erect a larger factory to meet the growing demand, and $100,000 is to be raised for this purpose.

"During the year our new office and factory building at Cristobal has been finished, and is now occupied as a factory for our Central American branch. It is a two-story, reinforced concrete building, and compares favorably with other first class buildings on the Canal Zone. It was dedicated January 28, 1920. The cost of the building was $25,577. We have also purchased a good concrete cottage for our employees at a cost of about $8,000.

"Last year every department of the home plant ran to its fullest capacity, with two shifts part of the time. The prospect for this year is that it will be necessary to add to our facilities or put on three shifts and run our presses 24 hours a day."

Although the conference finished its business and adjourned sine die yesterday noon, the afternoon of the closing day of the big convention was crowded full with a multitude of committee sessions and get-together meetings, for counsel over plans and methods of work. Changes in the fields of labors were announced yesterday morning, in addition to the large list of conference workers under appointment or seeking appointment to labor in foreign fields.

Prof. Kay M. Adams, who for several years has been in charge of the Seventh-day Adventist school in Singapore, Straits Settlements, but who is now at St. Helena, Cal., having returned to America on account of Mrs. Adams' health, is invited to take the principalship of the Arizona Academy. The Pacific Union Conference voted yesterday to recommend to the General Conference his release to take the new work.

Elder H. H. Dexter, of Berrien Springs, Michigan, now employed by the Lake Union Conference, is invited to accept work in the California Conference, making Oakland, Cal., his headquarters. A request for his release will be sent to the Lake Union field through the General Conference. Elder William Guthrie, president of the Lake Union, was in the congregation yesterday, having come to Glendale to attend the union conference, and expressed his appreciation of the efficient service Elder Dexter has rendered in the east.

An invitation also is being extended to Elder Stemple White, of St. Paul, Minn., now employed by the Minnesota Conference, to accept work in the Southern California Conference. The Minnesota Conference will be requested to release him to accept this position.

Elder Walter H. Bradley, of Los Angeles, has been invited to accept work for a time in Utah, and plans to leave soon for his new field.

Mr. H. B. Meeker, of western Colorado, is to take work as field missionary secretary of Utah.

Mr. Clifford L. Cyphers, of Glendale, formerly executive secretary of the Southern California Tract Society, but more lately employed as assistant manager of the Harrower Laboratories of Glendale, has accepted a position as secretary-treasurer of the California Bible House, of Oakland, Cal.

Elder C. W. Fuller, of Las Vegas, Nev., has been invited to labor in gospel work in the Central California Conference.

Elder and Mrs. I. Parry Dillon, of Arizona, are planning to take work in the Nevada field.

Mr. H. Lyle Wallace, of Nevada, is to take work in the Arizona Conference.

Messrs. C. F. Innis and Ishmael Sanchez, of Arizona, will labor in Central and Northern California.

Mr. Eugene Woesner, of the Nevada field, will take work in the Central California Conference.

Elder William C. White, of St. Helena, Cal., son of the late Mrs. Ellen G. White, rendered yesterday morning a report of the estate, showing that his mother contributed liberally to Loma Linda College of Medical Evangelists, at the time it was being established; also that she was a supporter of the Adventist sanitarium work, and other lines, in a financial way as well as by her pen and voice.

Delegates and others present at the big meeting Saturday morning, voted to send by Elder Daniells a message of greeting to Seventh-day Adventist believers in Europe.

In his discourse Saturday morning, Elder Daniells said the wonderful providences which have come to Seventh-day Adventists during the five years of the war have greatly strengthened his faith and confidence. He told of the religious despotism of Austria and Russia before the war, when all persons, except the priests of the established church, were refused permission to hold religious services, and when any Protestant who dared sing or pray in public was imprisoned and punished. "Every Sabbath-keeper baptized in Austria in those days," said Elder Daniells, "accepted this solemn rite at the risk of long years of imprisonment or banishment. The war has made stupendous changes, not only in Austria, but throughout Europe."

"This spiritual movement in the world, conducted by Seventh-day Adventists, is just as real as any material thing," continued Elder Daniells. "It is a great pillar, as it were, a tower of strength. I feel that a Divine Being is guiding, directing and overruling in the affairs of men, so that the gospel of salvation may go to all the world. We know that the last items in Bible prophecy have not yet been fulfilled, but from the time this movement began, three-quarters of a century ago, until the present time, we have traveled long distances, exactly as the great lines of prophecy indicated.

"You and I know in our inmost hearts and souls that as Joshua said to Israel concerning God's providences in that time, so concerning our day it may be said, that 'not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the Lord your God spake concerning you. All are come to pass unto you.' Not one statement in the prophecies of the Book of God has failed of fulfillment up to the present hour. The movement which has survived every onslaught brought against it during the last decade and more, will survive every attack of the next decade.

"It was no fool's errand upon which God sent Abraham. From the region of the Euphrates, God called him to journey to a land concerning which Abraham knew nothing. But God led him, and he became a great prince in that country.

"Why did God, a few years later, allow that splendid youth, Joseph, to be sold from the block in the auction mart, and then because of his loyalty to God, to be cast into prison? Why did God lead Israel into perplexity at the Red Sea, then divide the waters before them? Why did He lead that great multitude through the wilderness for 40 years? Why did He feed them with manna from heaven and provide them water from the flinty rock? It was a great missionary propaganda, friends. Through His marvelous dealings with Israel, God heralded a knowledge of himself to all Egypt and the heathen nations of the world. The narrative of God's dealings with His people occupies a very prominent place in the Book of God, and has been rehearsed for the encouragement of millions. The experiences of Israel have been a great blessing to the followers of Christ in all ages since those days.

"Why did God allow his people to be carried slaves into Babylon? Why did he allow three good men to be cast into a burning, fiery furnace, heated hotter than ever before? The Babylonians never could understand God's dealings until these three men walked out of the furnace without the smell of fire upon their garments. Without having witnessed this marvelous demonstration of the power of God, Nebuchadnezzar never could have made the wonderful confession he did. That was another great missionary propaganda. It carried the knowledge of God into the Euphrates valley, into Persia and into India. From that day to this that movement has had a large place not only in the Book of God, but also in the ministry of the gospel.

"Who can read the story of Queen Esther and Mordecai without a thrill? Who can read Queen Esther's noble resolve, 'I will go in unto the king, and if I perish, I perish,' without tears welling up in the eyes? In those days of peril, Mordecai stood as firm as a granite rock. The final triumph of these courageous souls, and of God's people, was wonderful. In all ages, God has triumphed over the enemies of righteousness.

"Wonderful Book of God! Walk with the Book into a land of heathenism and superstition, where not a soul believes it, or knows its teachings. Open this powerful book, and read its message, and in spite of themselves, men can not help believing it. It contains the truth of the living God. I remember well my evangelistic efforts in New Zealand. As I read from the Book to the people, day by day I saw them convinced of its truths even against their wishes. Some, to evade it, remained away from the meetings. Some came under powerful conviction. At last, one night, I held up this Bible before a tent filled with people, and said to them, 'My dear friends, I have been reading to you the words of this book for five weeks. How many of you believe it is the truth of the living God?' The whole tent acknowledged it. I said to them, 'How many of you will take your stand tonight to keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus?' Fifty-six stepped forward in the presence of that audience, and signed their names to the covenant. The Book itself had exerted this powerful influence upon their minds.

"Great lines of Bible prophecy converge in our day. We have been studying them for three-quarters of a century. During the last 75 years many things have taken place in fulfillment of these prophecies, so that today we find ourselves facing the last event of all.

"Some times I have thought of the men and women the world over, of all religious persuasions; the heathen, the Buddhists, the Confucianists, the Animists, the vast masses of mankind of all beliefs—and I have said to myself, 'Is it possible that all these people are wrong, and that my faith in the Bible and its teachings is based upon a firm foundation?

"Then I have looked out upon the world, upon the conditions by which we are surrounded, and which no one can deny. I have found these conditions foretold in the Bible. I have placed history alongside the second chapter of Daniel, and have found that prophecy and history agree perfectly. I have studied carefully all the other great lines of prophecy in the books of Daniel and the Revelation, together with the historical evidences of their fulfillment, and I have been forced to the conclusion that the Bible is indeed an inspired book. Unless I should throw away my reason I could reach no other decision.

"There is only one way in which I could abandon the truths preached and believed by Seventh-day Adventists, and that is to throw the Bible away, abandon it all and consent that man is like the beasts, with no God, no heaven, no soul, no future, just a mere animal, to live a little while and then die. Yet, I must admit that man has great ambitions which no other animal has. He possesses great desires which no other animal knows. He loves life as no other animal loves it, and has a sense of moral principles which no other animal knows. I can not accept the view that there is no God, nor heaven, nor future. No, no. If the Book of God fails, the whole universe fails with it. But, thank God, it will not fail.

"The great three-fold message of Revelation 14 is the message for the world today. The apostle John said, 'I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue and people, saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to Him, for the hour of His judgment is come, and worship Him that made heaven and earth, the sea and the fountains of waters.' Two other messages follow this first one, and then the final result is outlined in the words, 'Here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.'

"Today the church of God is free to go with that message to the ends of the earth. In a few weeks I shall be crossing the ocean for the land in which the storm has been raging these years. I am to visit all parts of the European field, beginning with Denmark, where a missionary institute is planned to be held May 7. I hope to visit France, Spain, Austria, Checho-Slovakia, Rumania, Bulgaria, and Constantinople. Our last appointment of the European visit is for the middle of September.

"To our young men and women let me say, If you can serve in distant lands, by all means, go. If you can join our workers on the Amazon in South America, or up the rivers and in the wilderness of Africa, join them. If you can go up the Yangtse Kiang, into old China, with its 400,000,000 souls, go. There is joy out there in working for God, though the missionary is cut off from civilization. Fred Lee, one of our noble missionaries in the Orient, once said to me, 'I would rather ride on a wheelbarrow in the heart of China than in an automobile in the heart of Washington.' Thank God for such missionary timber.

"May the day of God soon come when sin, and sorrow and brokenness of heart will be ended, and disappointment past. You are being asked to give largely to foreign missions. That money is accomplishing a great deal in leading men and women to God, dear friends, and some day you will understand what it has accomplished much better than you do today."

A resolution was passed yesterday thanking the press and people of Glendale for their kindness during the ten days of the conference sessions. The Glendale News received special mention in the discussion of the resolution by the delegates. It was as follows:

"Resolved, That a vote of thanks be extended to the people of Glendale for hospitality to the delegates and workers while in attendance upon this conference, and to the public press for its complete and accurate reports of our meetings."
